Data Privacy Compliance – Our mission

At Intelico Limited, Data Privacy is at the core of our operations. Every process within the company is designed with data privacy in view. Every line of code in our solutions has been written with your security in mind. We have employed the very latest framework releases, reused tried and tested modules, and applied fundamental security considerations to every aspect of software design and development. We also frequently review and externally test our software to keep it ahead of emerging threats.

We're continuously improving our internal processes and security measures to ensure complete platform assurance, and are actively in pursuit of compliance with the best industry bench marks. Our processes, right from your consented information disbursal to the final processed report, are prepared from ground up with GDPR compliance at its core.

Furthermore, everyone who works at Intelico Limited has been security vetted. We make sure there are several layers of controls for every data access across our platforms.
